

Ready To Learn.

The Learning Triangle - January 2010 Super Why - Pretend Play

The Learning Triangle is teaching young children through a combination of: TV that teaches + storybooks + activities (all related to one theme or skill.) READ, DO, VIEW.

READ - "Super Why! The Stars in the Sky". After reading, discuss how pretend play was used in the book to help solve a problem.

VIEW - Super Why! The Stars in the Sky. Princess Pea wants to play in a rainbow, but her mother says it simply can't be done! So the Super Readers soar into the story The Stars in the Sky and accompany a little girl named Ella with a big dream of her own! As the Super Readers climb higher and higher they begin to wonder - will they play with the stars, or merely wish on them? Educational Objectives: To learn about the fun of fantasy, follow the alphabet, practice spelling skills and use the power to read to change the story and save the day!

Watch Super Why! on WJCT Monday - Friday at 9 a.m. and Saturday at 8 a.m.

DO - Ask parents to give their children writing materials (paper, pencil/pen, markers, and/or crayons) and encourage their children to draw or write (or both) about: "Once I saw a rainbow....". Explain to participants that this is called a writing prompt and that their children are familiar with using writing prompts. Encourage parents to allow their children to read their story afterwards and to post it in the home for others to see.

See how easy it is to use the Learning Triangle?
Try it yourself and watch your child learn!
