WJCT’s mission is to use our unique assets as a resource for citizens to come together to celebrate human diversity, experience lifelong learning, and actively engage in matters of civic importance, all to improve the quality of our lives and our community.

Our vision for WJCT is to be regarded as an indispensable community resource, connecting citizens to content, sharing ideas, and setting the standards through which the community learns and grows.

WJCT utilized its unique asset to maximize the value provided to members of the First Coast community.

- Facilitated virtual community discussions on matters of public interest such as health, education, and history.
- First Coast Connect with Melissa Ross hosted 2020 presidential election coverage on WJCT News 89.9 with local cut-ins during PBS NewsHour.
- Published over 210 WJCT PBS KIDS Writers Contest entries from local K-3 graders on wjct.org.

In 2020, WJCT expanded its digital services and expanded our online resources to host virtual events.

- Launched AT-HOME LEARNING offering online resources and a new television schedule of educational programming.
- Created a dedicated webpage providing the latest in-depth updates on local and national coronavirus developments from medical professionals and journalists.
- Launched the Jacksonville Music Experience, a new multi-platform collection of services, providing more access to more citizens.

WJCT continued its commitment to serving the community with the launch of new series and events that inform, educate, entertain and empower.

- Delivered children’s backpacks filled with books, school supplies, personal hygiene products, socks and a Daniel Tiger mask to three nonprofits in recognition of Be My Neighbor Day.
- Distributed over 20,000 articles of cold-weather clothing for the Mister Rogers Sweater Drive.
- Partnered with StoryCorps’ One Small Step initiative, facilitating and broadcasting conversations with Americans of opposing viewpoints.
IN THE COMMUNITY: LOCAL EVENTS &

WJCT Soundstage: Jesse Cook
WJCT, in partnership with the Florida Theatre, launched the WJCT Soundstage Series. The WJCT Soundstage offers a unique and intimate setting to enjoy the sights, sounds, and energy in close proximity to musicians and performers. In 2020, Jesse Cooke performed live at the WJCT Soundstage. Jesse Cook is a Juno-winning, master guitarist blending rhumba flamenco with elements of new age and jazz to create his uniquely global sound. In January 2020, Jesse Cooke, the Juno-winning, master guitarist blending rhumba flamenco with elements of new age and jazz, performed live at the WJCT Soundstage to an audience of nearly 300.

No Passport Required
WJCT Public Media invited the Northeast Florida community to explore the intersection of food and culture in Jacksonville’s immigrant communities at an engaging community discussion. Clips from PBS’ No Passport Required, hosted by chef Marcus Samuelsson, were shared with attendees offering a culinary and anthropological exploration of the people, rituals, and food of multicultural America. Attendees enjoyed a reception with appetizers from diverse cultures created by local chefs. The event was facilitated by Sel Buyukasrac, and panelists included Theodres Aboye, Abla Bateh, Aileen Farhat, Dr. Leslie Kaplan, and Agnes Lopez.

The Jaxson presents Retrofitting the Core: Transformative Trails, Parks & Open Spaces
The Jaxson hosted a virtual conversation discussing how the community can be involved with Jacksonville’s urban core. The panelists explored the latest with the Emerald Trail, Lift Ev’ry Voice and Sing Park and related initiatives that integrate local history, culture, community and economic development with open space, bicycle and pedestrian use that are on the verge of breaking ground in a post-Covid Jacksonville. The virtual event was hosted by Modern Cities’ Ennis Davis, and panelists included Kay Ehas, CEO, Groundwork Jacksonville; Mari Kuraiishi, President, Jessie Ball duPont Fund; and Healy Dwyer, Founder, Bike Duval.

An Evening with 1A’s Jenn White
New host of 1A, Jenn White joined WJCT’s President & CEO David McGowan for a dynamic, thought-provoking virtual conversation. Over 160 audience members joined to watch the conversation and participate in a question and answer session. A seasoned journalist and podcast host, Jenn has worked in public radio since 1999. She joined WAMU 88.5’s 1A from Chicago’s WBEZ where, since 2016 she held several on-air positions as host of the station’s local two-hour midday show, Reset with Jenn White and was a familiar voice on several WBEZ podcasts, including Making Oprah, Making Obama and 16 Shots.

Voices of the First Coast: One Small Step Across the Political Divide
WJCT Public Media participated in StoryCorps’ One Small Step, a nationwide project with the goal of breaking down boundaries between strangers. The challenge: Have a conversation with another member of your community who you might not otherwise have a chance to talk with and with whom you might even disagree politically. WJCT reporters Lindsey Kilbride and Skyler LeBron recorded 25 conversations that are archived in the Jacksonville Public Library’s Florida Collection and the Library of Congress. Excerpts from select First Coast conversations were aired and participants shared their experience for a virtual evening of conversation and listening.
ONGOING SERIES, SPECIALS, AND SERVICES

Radio Reading Service (RRS)
WJCT’s RRS empowers visually-impaired and print-challenged adapted to Covid-19 by community members by broadcasting commercial-free readings of local and national newspapers, magazines, and books 24 hours a day, seven days a week. In its 27th year, RRS is powered by tireless volunteers, who provide the only service of its kind in Northeast Florida.

First Coast Connect with Melissa Ross
WJCT Public Media’s flagship daily call-in radio program features local newsmakers, civic and community leaders, arts, activities, and more, along with news features and a weekly roundtable of local journalists. Community members join the live conversation via phone, email, and social media. First Coast Connect with Melissa Ross airs weekdays at 9AM on WJCT News 89.9 and is rebroadcast at 8PM, and the podcast is available on all major podcast platforms.

Jazz Festival Weekend on the Jacksonville Music Experience
WJCT Public Media hosted the Jazz Festival Weekend on the Jacksonville Music Experience (JME) over Memorial Day Weekend (May 21-24, 2020), the traditional dates of the Jacksonville Jazz Festival which was postponed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Jazz Festival Weekend featured music from some of the biggest names in jazz across WJCT’s television, radio and online platforms. WJCT Public Media also hosted performances by local artists virtually on the JME Facebook group page.

Mister Rogers Neighborhood Sweater Drive
WJCT partnered with VyStar Credit Union, Suddath Moving & Logistics, and Tom Bush Family of Dealerships to present the 17th annual Mister Rogers Neighborhood Sweater Drive, honoring the late Fred Rogers by collecting over 20,000 sweaters, jackets, blankets, and socks. The items contributed by the First Coast community were distributed to the Clara White Mission, City Rescue Mission and the Sulzbacher Center nonprofits serving neighbors.

Florida Roundup
WJCT and WLRN’s collaboration expanded its reach this year to include broadcast by Orlando, Tampa, and Gainesville public radio stations and moved in the weekly lineup to air on Fridays at noon. WJCT’s Melissa Ross and WLRN’s Tom Hudson co-host the live call-in program featuring journalists and newsmakers from across the state.
ADAPT: Is There a Connection? Climate Change & Coronavirus
WJCT Public Media and the Northeast Florida Regional Council hosted the virtual conversation “Is There a Connection? Climate Change & Coronavirus” on July 14 focusing on the parallels between, and the intersections of, climate change and the coronavirus and how these crises are affecting our state and region. WJCT reporter Brendan Rivers and co-host Sean D. Lahav, MPA, Resiliency Coordinator for the Northeast Florida Regional Council moderated the discussion with panelists Aaron Bernstein, Athena Masson, and Richard Weisskoff.

ADAPT newsletter
The ADAPT newsletter informs the community about new quarterly reporting on climate change and its effects on Northeast Florida.

ADAPT: Activating a Resilient Future
On October 7, WJCT Public Media, the Northeast Florida Regional Council (NEFRC) and the Jacksonville Environmental Protection Board (JEPB) hosted a virtual community conversation featuring two panels of local elected officials and subject matter experts. Panelists discussed coastal & riverine flooding, sea level rise, environmental justice, and related policies, and answered audience questions.

ADAPT: The State of the St. Johns River
WJCT hosted the annual release of the State of the St. Johns River report in the afternoon to a virtually gathered audience, replacing the annual in-person event hosted by the City of Jacksonville. Following the release of the report, WJCT hosted an evening panel discussion allowing officials in various capacities to react to the report and reflect on how actions taken now could affect the river’s future health. Panelists included City Council Member Garrett Dennis, COJ Environmental Quality Division Chief Melissa Long, St. Johns Riverkeeper Lisa Rinaman, and Marine Science Research Center Executive Director A. Quinton White, Jr.

WJCT Public Media launched the Jacksonville Music Experience (JME), a new multi-platform collection of services, welcoming, gathering and connecting music lovers across Northeast Florida and beyond. JME offers a variety of ways to enjoy favorite artists and discover new genres on air, online, on demand and in person.

JME includes full-time HD stations and streams devoted to classical (Classical 24); a hand-crafted selection of music from the 60s, 70s, and 80s (Anthology); and a full format devoted to the pioneering sound of Electro Lounge, which appeared on 89.9 FM for more than 15 years (Electro Lounge Radio).

WJCT Public Media has also developed companion television programming on Music Thursdays each week on WJCT-TV 7.1. The JME Facebook group was created as a virtual gathering place for live music in Northeast Florida. Another component of JME is the VOIDCAST podcast, a musical journey through Northeast Florida. Hosted by editor of Void magazine Matt Shaw, VOIDCAST cuts through the digital noise and subverts the algorithms taking listeners through the past and present with the help of local musicians, producers, and the people who lived local music history.

WJCT, in partnership with the Florida Theatre, launched the WJCT Soundstage series. The WJCT Soundstage offers a unique and intimate setting to enjoy the sights, sounds, and energy in close proximity to musicians and performers. In January of 2020, Jesse Cooke performed live at the WJCT Soundstage. Jesse Cook is a Juno-winning, master guitarist blending rhumba flamenco with elements of new age and jazz to create his uniquely global sound. We look forward to hosting more live performances at the WJCT Soundstage in the near future. All scheduled performers were postponed and have been rescheduled for 2021 and 2022.

WJCT Public Media also invites the community to sign up to receive the JME Newsletter. Written by Music Director David Luckin and distributed monthly, the newsletter features updates and behind-the-scenes information about special programming on all JME music services on radio, TV and online, along with announcements of live performances at the WJCT Soundstage and special offerings for music fans in Northeast Florida.

With a variety of community partners, WJCT Public Media hosted two free lunch and learn events covering health topics. Due to the pandemic, WJCT Public Media pivoted and invited the community to join eight Virtual Listen & Learn events covering health, retirement, and financial topics:

- Breast Cancer Awareness
- Retirement Planning
- Dementia
- Hearing Loss
- Cataracts
- Retirement Tax Planning
- EoE (Eosinophilic Esophagitis)
- Diabetes
- Sleep Disorders

These community education events brought together doctors and other leading medical experts who shared the most recent research and potential treatments for a variety of health concerns. Other experts and skilled professionals with finance backgrounds educated citizens about retirement options and wealth management. Over 721 citizens, including students, caregivers, patients, and their family members, attended for a variety of reasons. Each gained invaluable Information, that is not always accessible, at no cost to the general public.

Comments from attendees included:
“Thank you for a wonderful 1st session of the Pink Ribbon Symposium! It was easy to join in, virtually, from home! Great topics and speakers! Very relevant for anyone who has been diagnosed or may be at-risk or just wanting more info! I liked when the presenters shared their video while they spoke - it made it seem more like we were there in-person. The Q&A time was great”

“Thank you for these informative sessions. Partnering with others brings ???? and knowledge to the community. We are better together.”

“Thank you for this opportunity to attend this important health program to learn more.”
WJCT’s annual Be My Neighbor Day had to be modified due to Covid-19.

Instead of hosting children and their families at WJCT Studios for a day of education and fun, WJCT distributed 300 backpacks to the community’s neediest children.

The backpacks included: Daniel Tiger book, additional book; bookmark activity; Thank you postcard activity; sidewalk chalk activity; hand sanitizer; Daniel Tiger mask; Daniel Tiger color sheets; comb; toothbrush; pair of Daniel Tiger socks; fleece blanket; diaper wipes; and PNC Grow Up Great Learn At Home Kits.

These backpacks were distributed to City Rescue Mission, Clara White Mission, Sulzbacher Center for the Homeless, and the Grow Up Great Children’s Clothing Closet.

As many schools and districts across Florida shifted to online and at-home learning in an effort to lessen the spread of COVID-19, WJCT Public Media, in partnership with public media organizations across the state, launched a new, weekday television schedule of educational programs aligned with state standards. WJCT Public Media also offered a suite of free digital learning resources accessible from home.

The new programming built upon WJCT Public Media’s education-focused initiatives, included the PBS Kids Writing Contest and additional resources available to educators and parents, such as:

- WJCT Kids Connect Newsletter: WJCT Public Media re-launched their monthly e-newsletter as a weekly publication providing engaging educational activities every Monday morning, with fun family learning ideas from sources such as PBS, The Fred Rogers Company and local educational community partners.

- WJCT-TV (Comcast 8 and 440): In April, WJCT’s main PBS channel broadcast a standards-aligned block of

- WJCT World: WJCT Public Media continues to broadcast the At-Home Learning schedule on WJCT World 7.4 (Comcast 212), providing a five-hour block of programming for students in grades 6-12 every weekday. Programs highlight topics such as science, history and English language arts. The weekly schedule with links to resources is updated weekly at wjct.org.

- Florida PBS LearningMedia: WJCT Public Media and PBS curated free, standards-aligned videos, interactives, lesson plans and more for all Florida educators. Collections included videos, lesson plans and activities, sorted by grade level (PreK through high school), subject area and state standard.

- Support for Teachers: Webinars from PBS master trainers and educators about how to create engaging and effective distance learning plans were available and accessible to teachers via PBS LearningMedia.

What They're Saying About WJCT Public Media...

"Simply awesome! Love love my daily Fresh Air which competes nicely with Morning Edition and Melissa’s First Coast Connect. Our local issues get me fired up just before starting my work day! Really there are so many favorites on PBS but Ken Burn documentaries are at the top." - Tim, WJCT supporter

"Thank you so much for highlighting Stronger Than Stigma® on First Coast Connect. I appreciate your support. You have an amazing following; I had people reach out to let me know they caught the broadcast (without even knowing I'd be on-air)--so cool!!" - Gabrielle, CEO and Founder, Stronger Than Stigma

"Love First Coast Connect with Melissa - part of my daily life!! And, WJCT is simply the BEST!!! Very grateful to have this essential asset in our community! Thank you for keeping us informed with honesty and integrity and entertained with classy programming! Congratulations on your well deserved recognition!" Ellen, First Coast Connect with Melissa Ross listener

"We listen to your local radio station, PBS NewsHour, and the HD3 music radio station! Thank you for your dedication of REAL news and great music! You're our #1 radio and TV station" - Debra, WJCT News 89.9 listener
