

Stacey Holman Bio

Stacey L. Holman is a Harlem-based award-winning producer and director. She collaborated with Henry Louis Gates, Jr. on several PBS series including Reconstruction: America After the Civil War, The Black Church: This Is Our Story, This is Our Song, and Making Black America: African American Social Networks to be released this fall. Currently, she is producing Gates's 2023 series, The History of Gospel and Preaching.

Earlier in her career, Stacey worked with Peabody and Emmy award-winning director Stanley Nelson on Tell Them We Are Rising: The Story of Black Colleges and Universities, Freedom Summer, and Freedom Riders. Stacey's most recent project Buffalo Soldiers, the third episode of the Black Patriots series on The History Channel.

One of Stacey's proudest moments is directing and producing her award-winning short Dressed Like Kings, filmed in Johannesburg, South Africa.